State by State Book List

The Following books have been compiled to assist you in your study of the 50 States. The books vary in range from picture books to chapter books; and by age from preschool to high school. The books are listed first by section covered then by state. The State by State Alphabet Series is a set a picture books the entire family will enjoy. The specific title for each state is listed at the top of each state's book list.

To help you determine the appropriate reading and/or maturity age for the books listed we have labeled them with our "growing heart" icons.

Please note that while we have taken the time to categorize the books by age levels, these categories are just suggestion and vary based on individual child's reading level and maturity. A child should not be considered "behind" simply because they choose a book that labeled at a younger age. Great stories come in all packages. If they are reading and enjoying it, they are learning, and loving it!

Also note that while a book may be labeled as a picture book, that should not in any way inhibit you from giving all your children the opportunity to enjoy it. You'd be surprised at who comes and sits down or piers over your shoulder when you open a good picture book.

Displaying the books you choose to focus on where everyone can see them is a great way to capture interest and offer great reading selections to your children on the topic you are covering.
